Note from the teacher

Good morning families! What a great first full week we had. I have included lots of fun picture showing all the amazing things we did.

This week we will start our Fastbridge testing. These are one-on-one assignments that myself or Ms. Baggett will administer. Your child will be given these test in both reading and math. It is very important that your child tries their best because these test will help me plan the lessons and make small groups that your child needs. It is also important to have a quiet environment for testing, so remind your child that following the expectations are a must.

Each week a couple of reading work pages will be coming home in their Thursday folder. These are optional pages that your child can practice with you at home. The pages are review of what we have been covering in class. If you and your child choose to do the pages great. Just have your child put their name at the top and then you need to put your name after theirs. Once they return the work I will mark it and give them 2 gold slips for working at home. Right now it will just be reading work. I will start sending home math work as the year progresses.

Please reach out to me if you have any questions or concerns.
